Nova Scotia Seafood

Nova Scotia seafood is prized around the world. Its superior flavour and premium quality result from the icy temperatures of the surrounding Atlantic Ocean. Nova Scotia is home to a diverse range of the highest quality seafood and value-added products – from our world famous Canadian hard-shelled lobster and coldwater shrimp, to snow crab, scallops, redfish, white fish, oysters and sea cucumber – all harvested from the cold, clean, and pristine waters of the Atlantic Ocean. PURE.

Our seafood is handled with the utmost care every step of the way. From the boats to the dock and our processing plants, we ensure it tastes as fresh as the day it was caught. Nova Scotia wild seafood and shellfish mature at a natural pace, and swim freely in the clear waters off Nova Scotia's rugged 7,000 km coastline.

Nova Scotia provides seafood to more than 60 countries worldwide. In 2025, Nova Scotia exported $417 million of seafood to China and over $2.2 billion in total around the world.

We have been supplying the world market with premium Canadian hard-shell live lobster for years. We have the capability of delivering live lobster from our boats to your dining table. Our company maximizes freshness through efficient temperature control transportation. It is our goal to supply our customers with the finest high-quality lobster consistently. To meet the growing needs of the foodservice industry, we have introduced a line of HPP (High Pressure Processing) frozen lobster products, including whole lobster, split lobster, lobster tails, claws, and lobster meat.

Using high-pressure water processing, HPP technology completely separates the lobster meat from the shell, delivering virtually 100% meat recovery while significantly reducing labor and preparation time in commercial kitchens. The process preserves the texture, freshness, and natural color of live lobster while eliminating more than 98% of bacteria and microorganisms. As an emerging premium product category, HPP lobster offers high added value and significant advantages for the modern foodservice market.

At our company, we recognize that resource conservation is a key to sustainable fisheries. We are dedicated to this process at “Everichlobster”. The quality of our products and the value that we have in our customers give our company pride.
